2018 Examination: Certification in Medical Quality (CMQ)

Introduction and Purpose:

The American Board of Medical Quality, with the cooperation of the American College of Medical Quality (ACMQ), will offer to ACMQ members and other medical and healthcare professionals a certification examination to test basic knowledge in medical quality management, including principles of clinical quality improvement.

Suggested Study Materials:

Study materials in the basic tenets of medical quality management and clinical quality improvement as suggested by the American College of Medical Quality are:

- a. The ACMQ textbook Medical Quality Management: Theory and Practice, 2009;
- b. The Health Care Quality Book: Vision, Strategy and Tools. Third Edition. Nash D et al, 2014;
- c. The Quality Handbook for Health Care Organizations. Dlugacz Y et al, 2004;
- d. Other resources that will be announced later.

Date/Time:

The CMQ test will be offered on Saturday, May 19, 2018 at a time to be announced later.

Place:

University of Texas MD Anderson Cancer Center, Houston, Texas

Duration/Format:

Two hours/multiple choice questions (proctored examination)

Examination Fee:

For all candidates from the University of Texas Health System (UTHS), including the MD Anderson Cancer Center and Memorial Hermann, the fee is $315. For all candidates from institutions outside the UTHS the following fee structure applies: $495 for individual candidates, $395 per candidate for two to five individuals from a single institution and $315 per candidate for more than five individuals. Fees are payable with exam application, not refundable but may be applied to the following year in the case of a candidate's cancellation.

Candidate Criteria:

1. Candidates must EITHER:
 - a. Have an MD, DO, DDS, DPM, DMD or DNP degree, with an active unrestricted license to practice (documentation required), and experience or expertise in using the principles of quality to improve clinical practice; OR
 - b. Have a PharmD, JD [health law], or other doctorate in a health-related field (documentation required), with experience or expertise in using the principles of quality improvement: OR

- c. Be a holder of a postgraduate degree (documentation required of Master's or higher, e.g. MPH, MPA, MSc, MBA, MSN) and experience or expertise in using the principles of quality improvement; OR

2. Students and residents without a medical license who have been awarded the status of Quality Scholar by ACMQ may be approved as eligible to take the exam. Applications for Quality Scholars are provided on the ABMQ website.

Designation of successful candidates:

Certified in Medical Quality (CMQ)

Application:

All candidates for certification or recertification must complete the application from this manual. Email, mail or fax the application to ABMQ before April 15, 2018. All applications will be reviewed and approved by the Candidate Review Committee, comprising the ABMQ Chair and other members as appointed by the ABMQ Chair.

If you meet the essential criteria for candidates you will be notified by email that your application has been approved.

Exam Rules:

1. Candidates must report to the exam site as instructed on your letter of acceptance. Candidates arriving late may be admitted at the discretion of the chief proctor.
2. No pager, cell phones, alarms, or similar devices may be operative during the exam. Candidates will be reminded to turn such devices off prior to the exam. Any person using such devices may be dismissed from the exam room and disqualified from the examination. Tablets, e-readers and other handheld computers are also prohibited.
3. No books, reference materials, or study aids of any sort are allowed in the exam room unless stored in the back of the room as directed by the chief proctor.

ADA Compliance:

It is the policy of ABMQ to comply with the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 (ADA) regulations governing both facilities and administration. ABMQ will take steps reasonably necessary to make its examination programs accessible to persons with disabilities. Appropriate and effective modifications and/or auxiliary aids will be provided to such persons with disabilities unless doing so would impose an undue burden on the ABMQ program or fundamentally alter the measurement of skills or knowledge that the program is intended to test. An applicant may request a change in certification procedures or process due to a disability, handicap or other reason. Such notice and documentation must be provided with the application for examination at least 45 days in advance of the examination date. The applicant is responsible for demonstrating that the request should be granted.

Exam Scoring:

1. Examination questions, answers, and grading guidelines are developed and approved by the ABMQ Board of Directors.
2. There is no penalty for incorrect answers.
3. No credit is given for items for which more than one response is selected.
4. For the 2018 examination, all candidates who achieve a passing score of 70% will be awarded the CMQ designation. The ABMQ Board of Directors reserves the right to change the grading system for future examinations in 2019 and beyond.

Reporting of Results:

Candidates will receive the results of their examination in writing by June 30, 2018. Individual test scores will be released only to the candidate and only upon request.

Certification expiration:

The CMQ certification expires after 5 years for the initial certification. Subsequent certifications, i.e., recertification, expire after 10 years.

Disclaimers:

1. The Certification in Medical Quality (CMQ) recognizes that recipients have mastered a level of knowledge and a fundamental understanding of the basic tenets of medical quality as identified by the American Board of Medical Quality (ABMQ).
2. The ABMQ has reviewed and approved the eligibility criteria of all candidates for the CMQ. Candidates have verified by signature that the credentials listed in the CMQ examination application are correct. ABMQ is not responsible for any misrepresentation of candidates' credentials.
3. The study materials listed on this website may be suggested or developed by the American College of Medical Quality (ACMQ), which has no further influence over or access to the content of the ABMQ examination.
